

New England
Fishery Management
Council

September 12, 2017

Mr. Chris Oliver
Assistant Administrator for Fisheries
National Marine Fisheries Service/NOAA
U.S. Department of Commerce
1315 East-West Highway
Silver Spring, MD 20910

Dear Chris:

Now that you have settled in, we want to officially congratulate you on your new position. We are looking forward to working with you as we continue building on our strong record of sustainable fisheries management. While we recognize that your long involvement with the Council Coordination Committee has given you a broad and highly welcomed understanding of our nation's fisheries, we still would appreciate the opportunity to spend time with you on a Council-by-Council basis to discuss in more detail the regional fisheries issues and challenges we face. To that end, we invite you to visit each of our Councils over the next few months. Attached is a list of our scheduled meetings to facilitate planning.

We also would like to take this opportunity to emphasize the importance of adequately funding Council operations. As you are well aware, the Councils play a critical role in fisheries management. Since 2010, total Council funding has not increased. During this eight-year period, the agency placed additional demands on our time in order to implement numerous initiatives related to climate change, recreational fishing, limited access privilege programs, and ecosystem-based fishery management. At the same time, our administrative costs continue to rise. The ability to manage our budgets is made even more difficult because we are often uncertain when funds will be released to our accounts.

The Councils will not be able to operate successfully if level-funding continues into the future. We urge you to support our operations with sufficient resources to complete our mission. Our nation's fishery resources are too valuable to risk their future through a shortsighted effort to achieve minor cost savings.
